Col. Watterson Says Gov. Wilson Asked Him to Help Raise Campaign Fund

LATTER ASSERTS HE DIDN'T

Senator Tillman Enters Scene.

Rebuted by Southern Editor for Remarks

WASHINGTON Jan. 26.—Interest in the controversy between Woodrow Wilson (col. George Harvey and Col. Henry Watterson, over Governor Wilson's aspirations for the Democratic presidential nomination, was revived tonight when Col. Watterson gave out correspondence that had passed between himself and Senator Benjamin Tillman of South Carolina, yesterday and today.

The correspondence in which the name of Thomas F. Ryan of New York appears follows:

Washington D. C. Jan. 25, 1912.
My Dear Sir—Referring to the so-called Harvey-Watterson incident I find you quoted by the newspapers of this morning to the effect that I had given Henry Watterson credit for more sense than to try to foist off a story like this with the material facts concealed. The man who makes a public statement with the material facts concealed is little other than a scoundrel. I have the right, therefore, to demand of you upon what warrant of authority you make this serious accusation of me, and to ask a reply through my friend the Hon. Swager Sherley, of Kentucky.

(Signed) HENRY WATTERSON

Senator Tillman Replies.

Washington, Jan. 26, 1912.

Hon. E. R. Tillman, U. S. Senate, Washington.

My Dear Sir—In your note of January 25, handed me by the Hon. Swager Sherley, you call my attention to an interview which I had given in reference to the Harvey-Watterson incident in which I say "I had given Henry Watterson credit for more sense than to try to foist off a story like this with the material facts concealed."

You demand to know upon what warrant of authority you make this serious accusation of me.

In your statement to the press, you described in detail the rupture between Governor Wilson and Colonel Harvey, but said nothing as to what caused it. All the leading papers of the country seem to know why Governor Wilson severed relations with Colonel Harvey, and you, as a leading newspaper, call my attention to an interview in which I said that the rupture was caused by the fact that Governor Wilson had given credit to a story which I had given in reference to the Harvey-Watterson incident in which I say "I had given Henry Watterson credit for more sense than to try to foist off a story like this with the material facts concealed."

Very respectfully yours,
(Signed) E. R. TILLMAN

(Col. Henry Watterson, Washington, D. C.)

Watterson's Answer.

Washington D. C. Jan. 26, 1912.

My Dear Sir—I have never pretended to be a promoter of presidential candidates, expert or otherwise, but I do declare your opinion and write with that, as well as the truth of this matter, in mind.

I am with you, senator, in wishing a Democratic and not a pseudo Republican for our presidential nominee. It is no less, from a patriotic and just point of view, than of justice between man and man that I made the statement to

MORGAN BRINGING ART

TREASURES TO AMERICA

To Transfer Invaluable Collections of

Ivories, Gems and Paintings to

Metropolitan Museum

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—The ultimate concentration of the scattered art treasures which J. P. Morgan has been collecting for many years at an estimated outlay of nearly $10,000,000 is said to be the real plan behind arrangements the American financier is now making for the transfer of an invaluable collection of ivories and gems from the South Kensington museum in London to New York.

In confirming today the report of this transfer and denying that it was undertaken because of any dissatisfaction over the treatment of his art treasures by the British museum, J. P. Morgan Jr. intimated that his father proposed to arrange also for the transfer of his art loans now in Paris and other European cities to America.

J. P. Morgan Jr. said the treasury department was most cordial and effectual manner possible and it was hoped there could be little difficulty in getting the art treasures to this country. They will be directed to the Metropolitan museum of art and will be stored there until the problem of finding room for the display is solved.

LONDON Jan. 26.—The authorities of the Victoria and Albert Museum are greatly disturbed about the withdrawal of the main collection of art objects lent for many years by J. P. Morgan.

Two Unmasked Men Subdue
Employees Vancouver Branch and Carry Away $1,999

VANCOUVER B. C., Jan. 26.—Two unmasked men armed with revolvers entered the Hill Crest branch of the Royal Bank of Canada at Main Street and Seventeenth Avenue in broad daylight today, drove Manager Stewart and one of his clerks into the vault, knocked the other clerk unconscious with a blow from a revolver butt and escaped with $1,999 all the money that was in the till.

According to a statement made by one of the bank officials the first man to enter the bank pointed his revolver at Manager Stewart while the other man covered Ledger Keeper Harrison and Teller Richmond and ordered them to hold up their hands. Richmond and Harrison were some distance from the thief and Richmond instead of complying at once with the demand backed out of his cage quickly and threw the key in a hole in the wall at the same time slamming the door locked itself with the key. The man who had been in the vault with the money then came out and told the manager that he had been shot in the back by the man who had been in the vault with the money.

No ill results, he said, the other men had taken the money.

The men pocketed all the money in the cash boxes and left the building by the back entrance. The police have a good description of the man but have no idea of the direction they took. This is the fourth time in a week that a branch of the Royal Bank in Vancouver has been held up.

STRIKE VIOLENCE CONTINUES

Boulder, Louisville, Marshall and Other

Towns in Coal District Report

Many Outbreaks

DENVER, Colo., Jan. 26.—Both the Rocky Mountain News and the Republican will say tomorrow that the acts of violence attendant upon the union coal miners strike in the northern Colorado fields, which ceased for a time when Governor Shafroth was asked to call out the national guard, have been renewed.

Advices from Boulder, Louisville, Marshall and other towns in the district are that there have been many acts of violence committed in the last few days. Among the acts of violence the Republican will say tomorrow are the breaking of switches for the evident purpose of preventing the hauling of coal out of the camps.

LOCAL MEN INTERESTED

IN BIG GAME PRESERVE

Following the purchase in Pueblo a few days ago of 10 deer, it is announced that the Trinchera estate hunting preserve, controlled by Colorado Springs, New York and Philadelphia millionaires, is in the market for all kinds of big game to be used in stocking their 10,000-acre preserve near Fort Garland, in southwestern Colorado.

A price of $50 each was paid for the deer and there are now 70 in the preserve.

Chester Alan Arthur and Joseph Harrison of this city are interested in the Trinchera grant preserve, and associated with them are some exceedingly wealthy men of the country. The association recently completed a 100-foot fence line feet high around the 10,000-acre tract, which is now being stocked with big game and at an early date the preserve will be increased by the addition of 75,000 acres, all of which will be fenced.

At present the men behind the project are sending their agents in search of game to be taken to the preserve. Deer, elk, mountain sheep, bear, moose, lion, wildcats, wolves, quail, grouse, and pheasants are wanted. The deer will be protected for four or five years, and for the present the preserve will be used almost exclusively for trout fishing. When the game is plentiful, however, the easterners interested in the project will come to Colorado each year to hunt big game.

The Trinchera estate extends to within six miles of Fort Garland, and stretches toward Alamosa, including nearly 90,000 acres in all, or an area of about 140 square miles. Hundreds of thousands of dollars will be spent within the next year or two fitting up the estate for occupancy of the owners.

It is not expected that the preserve will become popular for four or five years as it will take that long for the game to multiply and become plentiful enough to afford good hunting.

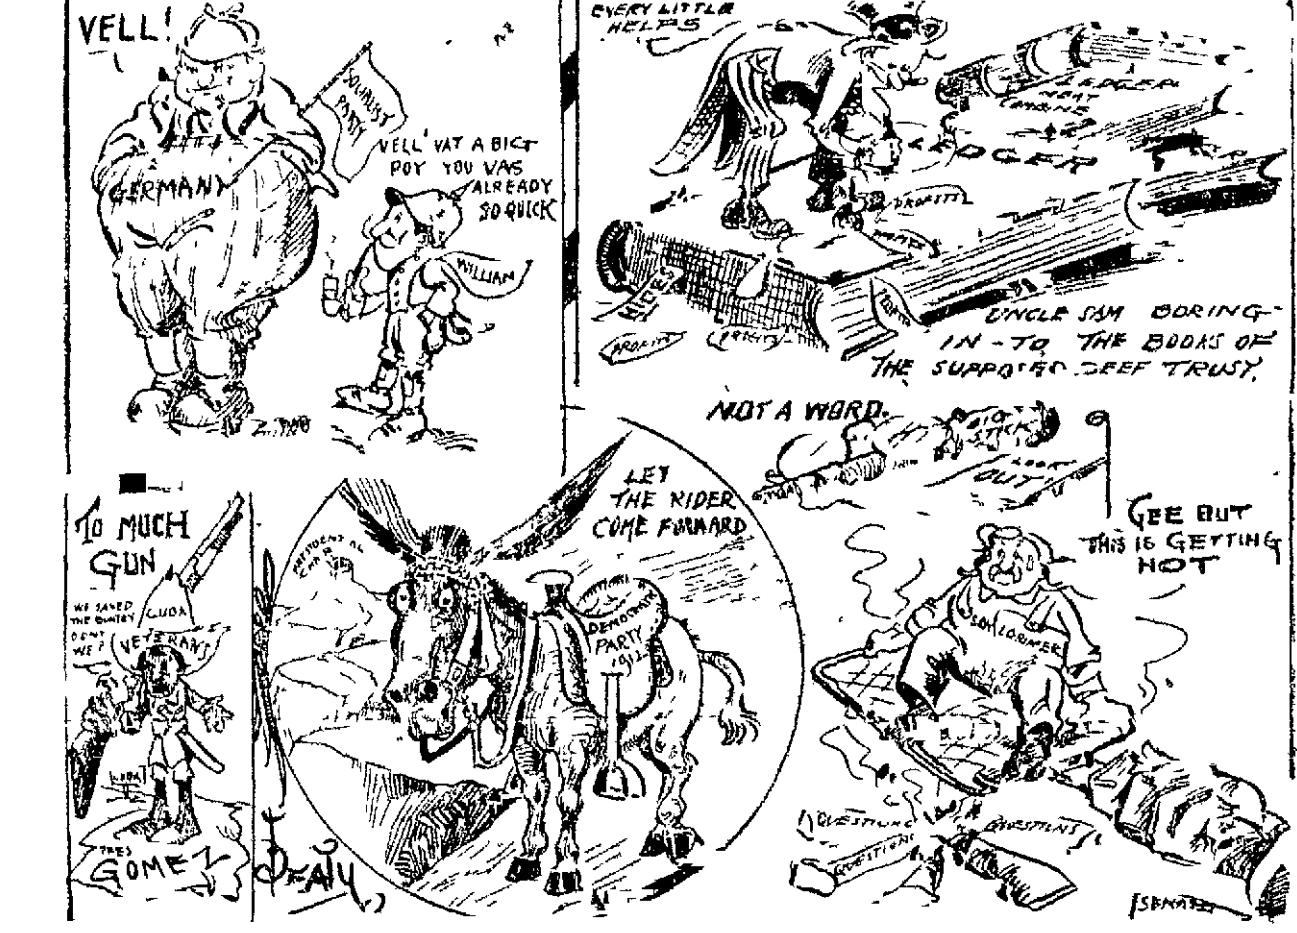

Eventually, it is planned the estate's lands will be made the most extensive and finest hunting and fishing grounds and summer mountain home to be found anywhere. A large club house, hotel and casino will be erected on the preserve and the building will be supplied with all modern comforts including electric lights and heat from a private electric plant. Rich furnishings will be installed for the millionaire owners and the preserve will be an ideal summer home.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Jan. 26.—J. R. Garfield, secretary of the Interior in the Roosevelt administration, arrived here today from Mexico. He was escorted for an hour or more with Frank W. Clancy, who is known as a Progressive Republican leader but both men declared that politics was not discussed.

Speaking for himself Mr. Garfield declared that he was for anybody to beat Mr. Taft. Efforts to confirm rumors that the former cabinet member's visit to New Mexico was to ascertain the sentiment toward Roosevelt failed as the visitor insisted that personal business alone called him to this city and would carry him to Santa Fe before his return to the east.

M'NAMARA'S ATTORNEY IS FORCED TO TESTIFY

Following Court Rulings, He Tells Grand Jury Where to Find Check Book Stubs of Dynamite

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 26.—Pacis about J. J. McNamara's expense in paying the "dynamite crew" and in buying explosives to blow up "open shop" structures for more than two years before his arrest, were made available to the federal grand jury today through Leo M. Rappaport, formerly an attorney for the McNamaras. Rappaport told the grand jury the names of those to whom he had entrusted all the check book stubs and canceled checks, which showed McNamara's financial dealings from December 1, 1909, to the day of his arrest, April 22, 1911, and which also showed what disposed the dynamite had made of the $1,000 a month allowed him in his capacity of secretary-treasurer of the bridge and structural iron workers organization.

Rappaport at first refused to testify, declaring the evidence sought was in the nature of a privileged communication between attorney and client, but after Federal Judge Anderson had ruled that he would be compelled to produce the books if he had them, or to tell who had them, Rappaport consented to answer the questions.

"This investigation is not to be delayed by any trivial matter," said the court. "The jury has been sitting for weeks and it is not going to be marched up and down hill for nothing."

RAIN AND WIND FAIL TO HINDER AVIATORS

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 26.—A speed race, followed by an altitude duel, both in a driving rain, featured the sixth day of the third international aviation meet on Dominguez field today. The contestants were: Lincoln Beachey and Phil O. Parmalee, crack aviators of the Curtiss and Wright camps.

Showers and a stiff wind curtailed the day's program, but most of the events were sufficiently thrilling for the small crowd in attendance.

Beachey took most of the honors, winning the race against Parmalee, and both made sensational spirals to the ground after reaching an altitude of more than 3,000 feet.

Weldon B. Cooke of Oakland clinched his hold on duration honors of the meet by remaining in the air 2 hours and 25 minutes. While the storm broke Cooke raised his plane, soared above the rain and wind and during the greater part of his flight remained above the clouds.

Farnum Fish, a Los Angeles boy, also flew during the storm. Early in the day Frank M. Stites, flying a Curtiss biplane, was injured in midair by the flying part of a broken cylinder. He managed to retain control of the machine and landed safely. He was able to take part in a race later in the day.

Blanche S. Scott of Rochester, N. Y., then woman aviator, made a flight.

At the conclusion of the day's program, Phil O. Parmalee made an exhibition flight in a Wright glider. It was raining at the time, but Parmalee reached an altitude of about 35 feet in the motorless biplane, which was towed by an automobile.

FRANCE AND GARDNER WIN SOUTHERN SHOOT

HOUSTON, Tex., Jan. 26.—W. France, amateur of Houston, won the Sunny South handicap today, and, with Alfred Gardner, also a Houston amateur, as his team mate, won the team championship of Texas.

France won the handicap, an open event, worth $540 to the winner, by breaking 25 targets straight in a shoot-off after tying Thomas Marshall, professional, of Illinois, and P. L. Parsons, amateur, of Hot Springs, Ark., with 85 breaks out of a possible 100. France shot from the 16-yard mark; Marshall, from 15 yards, and Parsons, from 20. N. Arie of Houston was high amateur today, with 186 out of a possible 200. P. T. Parsons of Hot Springs, Ark., was high professional, with 193. Ben Schwartz of Houston was second, with 189, and W. S. P. Hear of Guthrie, Okla., and C. S. Spencer of St. Louis tied for third, with 187.

On the five days' program of 1,005, Crosby and Hear, professionals, led, with 961 each, followed by Graham, amateur, with 945.

FRENCH AVIATOR BREAKS RECORD FOR 62 MILES

POUZY, France, Jan. 26.—M. Bathiat, the aviator, flying today in a monoplane, made a new world's record for 100 kilometers (62 miles) of 41 minutes 29 seconds.

Another world's record was made by Henri Molla. Driving a biplane carrying five passengers, a total weight of 945 pounds, exclusive of gasoline, Molla remained aloft 66 minutes.

THOMAS McDONALD DIES

Thomas McDonald, superintendent of the "covered" department of the Colorado Springs & Interurban Railway company, died at Glickner sanatorium at 1:15 o'clock this (Saturday) morning. He took sick a week ago from an abscess of the ear. Complications resulted, and an operation was necessary.

Mr. McDonald had been in the employ of the street car company for several years, and was well known. He was about 32 years old. A brother, living in New York, is on his way here. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

REPUBLICAN EDITORIAL ASSN. OF MISSOURI MEETS

Politics Barred Several Attacks on State's Primary Law, Some of Speakers Urging Its Repeal

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 26.—Politics did not creep into the deliberations of the annual convention of the Republican Editorial Association of Missouri which began a two days' meeting here today. In fact, all the editors had quietly agreed among themselves to keep any discussions of politics out of their gathering at this time.

A discussion on the Missouri primary law resulted in a number of attacks upon it. Several speakers urged its repeal, declaring it was "disreputable," that it was a "rich man's law," and that it did not give the people a chance to name their candidates because the political organizations always combined for one candidate while the people split among many, thus enabling the politicians to win.

The editors were guests tonight of the Republicans of Kansas City at a dinner at the Coates house.

Charles Nagel, secretary of commerce and labor, praised the general policy of the Republican party.

When Captain Henry King, editor of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, and toastmaster, referred to Theodore Roosevelt, "our fellow editor, who first put Missouri in the Republican column," there was a unanimous demonstration. There were calls of "Teddy, Teddy." "What's the matter of Teddy?" And when the noise had died down some one near the speaker's table shouted "do it again" and the cheering broke out anew.

A little later when Mr. King referred to President Taft as a "great president" cheers of the Taft supporters filled the room and equaled the demonstration which followed mention of Roosevelt.

Government Bars Wealthy Resident of Lower California From U. S. Reason: A Secret

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Jan. 26.—John Hunsong, a millionaire and for 20 years a resident of Lower California, has been declared an undesirable person and excluded from the United States. Immigration Inspector Henry Venable received official notice from Washington today that his ruling to that effect had been sustained.

The ruling was made two weeks ago when Hunsong came from England to see his children, who are in school here. He contested the ruling. Officials here refuse to specify why they consider him undesirable.

California Declares Quarantine Against Guavas and Mangoes—Oranges Must Be Fumigated

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Jan. 26.—The state horticultural commissioner declared a quarantine today against Mexico, prohibiting the importation of guavas and mangoes from that country and requiring the fumigation of oranges shipped into California either by rail or steamer.

This is the first quarantine order issued by the state since the passage of the new state insect pest quarantine law, and it is aimed at the so-called orange fly of Mexico.

MOB IN ECUADOR KILLS LATE LEADER; BURN BODY

GUAYAQUIL, Ecuador, Jan. 26.—Gen. Pedro Montero, who recently was the popular hero of Guayaquil, was yesterday shot by the angry populace, dragged into the streets, beheaded and burned.

General Montero in November last was proclaimed president by the troops stationed in Guayaquil, but handed over the leadership in the provisional government to Gen. Placido Alfaro. A revolutionary army went from Guayaquil to meet the government troops from Quito, who, under the command of Gen. Leonidas Plaza, defeated and eventually forced Guayaquil to capitulate.

General Montero, with other leaders, was captured on January 22, and last evening the general was brought before a court-martial and sentenced to 16 years' imprisonment in a penitentiary. When General Plaza, who presided over the court-martial, announced the sentence, crowds of angry people who had surrounded the government palace awaiting the result shouted violent protest.

The excitement increased rapidly, and some of them rushed into the

ARRESTED DETECTIVES EXPECT RELEASE TODAY

DENVER, Jan. 26.—Attorney Willis Stidger, representing William E. and Frank Kitzelmann, detectives, who were arrested yesterday on complaint of Cora L. Stokes, who charged that they had fraudulently secured her diamonds, stated tonight that the prisoners probably would be released under bonds tomorrow.

The Kitzelmanns are not operatives of the Burns detective agency. They are the owners of the Midland detective agency of this city, and the sign on their office window states that the agency represents the Burns agency in this city.

Mr. Stidger declared that he had little fear that the case would be prosecuted, as the woman left the diamonds of her own accord as a pledge that she would return to be questioned concerning a complaint made against her by a client of the Midland concern, and which it was desired to handle without publicity.

CHURCH EXPELS RICHESON

Congregation "Withdraws Right Hand of Fellowship" From Minister Who Confessed Murder.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Jan. 26.—Rev. Clarence V. T. Richeson, who is under sentence of death for the murder of his former sweetheart, Avis Linnell, was expelled today from the Baptist church. The action was taken at the regular monthly meeting of the Emmanuel Baptist church of this city, of which Richeson was pastor at the time of his arrest. The motion, which was carried unanimously, was put in this form:

"Voted that the right hand of fellowship be withdrawn from Clarence V. T. Richeson, and that his name be dropped from the church roll of members."

EXTRA TRAIN FOR PANAMA EXPOSITION CONSIDERED

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 26.—The operating heads of the Harriman railroad ended a two-day conference here this afternoon. The meeting was secret and the only fact given out was that an "extra fare" train between Chicago and San Francisco for the Panama exposition travel was considered. The train, if run at all, will not make the journey more than once or twice a week.

The Harriman officials still deny that they discussed the shipmen strike and refuse to comment on the story that complaints from the government over the delay in handling mails called for a settlement of the strike or rearrangement of train schedules.

SAN FRANCISCO SOCIETY OUTDOES SELF IN MATTER OF COSTUMES AT BALL

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 26.—San Francisco society was entertained by Mrs. Templeton Crocker tonight with an oriental ball said to have outdone any similar entertainment given in the west, and there were many who contended that it surpassed the celebrated affair given by Mrs. Crocker's cousin, Mrs. Jack Gouraud, in New York not long ago.

The ballroom of a fashionable hotel here had been converted into the semblance of the throne room of King Solomon's temple. Softened red lights gleamed through vapors of incense on walls hung with costly tapestry and other rich decorations and trappings of oriental art. Swarthy attendants, clad in the fantastic dress of Asiatic principalities, lurked in the picture and added materially to the verisimilitude of effect.

The costumes of the participants were varied and wonderful. Mrs. Crocker's mother, Mrs. Will G. Irwin, dressed upon the guests in oriental trousers, of soft pink velvet with a broad cloth of gold worn as a tunic, with breastplates, bodices and broad skirts of turquoises, pearls and sapphires. A coronet, one of the most resplendent ever seen on the Pacific coast, crowned her display of beautiful jewels.

Hostess in Regal Attire.
The hostess was regal. Her mauve pantaloons were embroidered with gold and silver thread. Sapphires and pearls woven into a sort of harness covered the dress, and from her coronet there fell to her bejeweled ankles a veil of silver in a suggestion of the flashing scales of a fish. Breastplates of pearl, brilliants and sapphires and a flaming corset, sash completed her costume.

The gamut of the orient was run in quest of costume effects. This ball had been whispered about for nearly a year, and many had the opportunity to visit the far east in quest of bizarre adornment. India and Turkey contributed perhaps the most picturesque costumes, but southern Italy, Greece and even France added to the gaiety and color of the occasion. Daring girls were there, the queen of Shobor, Solomon's favorite wife, and any number of geisha girls. No masks were worn, but an effort to be realistic as possible was striven for, and the faces and arms of many of the women were stained in rich tints to harmonize with the apparel.

The men appeared to us good advantage as their fair partners. With the men, India seemed to be the most favored land for representation, and the Hindu was present in such numbers as might alarm adherents of the Asiatic Exclusion league. From manitous to maharajahs the followers of Buddha attracted unusual interest.

A well-known local physician appeared as Omar Khayyam. As there was no particular way of identifying the Persian philosopher, the doctor carried a small jug and a smaller loaf of bread.

A feature of the ball was a Salome dance, by six young girls attired in fetching costumes. They had practiced the dance for weeks.

San Francisco society voted the affair the big hit of the season.

Princess troubled with partial paralysis are often very much benefited by massaging the affected parts thoroughly when applying Chamberlain's Liniment. This liniment also relieves rheumatic pains. For sale by all dealers.

CAPTAIN MACDONOUGH DIES
PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 26.—Capt. James J. MacDonough, who served with distinction in the British army in the Boer war, died here today. He was prominent as cricketer and was a member of several international teams.

Almost any day one can see Dr. Mary Walker, well known throughout the country for her advocacy of man's dress for woman, striding the principal thoroughfares of Washington, attired in her strange attire. She sums up the question of masculine attire for women in these words: "Dress is a matter of selection from what the market affords. Few persons have any taste or originality and it requires a high order of moral courage to do differently from the masses."

COMPANY TO HAVE CHARGE MOFFAT MINING PROPERTY

DENVER, Jan. 26.—All of the mining properties belonging to the estate of David H. Moffat are to be placed under the management of Philip Argall & Sons, and a contract between the executors of the estate and the engineering firm to that effect has been approved by the county court. Some of the mining stocks held by the estate are to be sold, but much of the property is to be developed to its highest state of efficiency.

The executors of the estate, Mrs. Frances H. Moffat, widow, and Fred C. Moffat, daughter, and Fred C. Moffat, signed a petition to the court to approve of the contract. It was stated that the contract had been made with the Argalls on December 1, 1911, subject to the approval of the court. In the inventory of the Moffat estate a value of $4,671,720 is placed on the mining properties which are represented by 6,058,911 shares of stock in 51 companies.

By the terms of the contract the engineering firm agrees to examine the present condition of the Moffat mining properties and to complete the task not later than January 1, 1913. The firm will also report which properties, in its judgment, should be sold and which should be developed.

The firm is to receive for its compensation 10 per cent of the net income of the properties, and its income equals $3,000 per month, and it is to receive 5 per cent of the net income on all over that amount. The compensation is to be the same for the sale of any of the mining stocks held by the estate.

The estate owns 1,900,000 shares of stock in the Treasure Mining and Milling company, the interest being valued at $1,900,000. In the Venture Gold Mining company it holds stock valued at $249,994. In the Maid of Erin Silver Mines company of Leadville, its interest is valued at $1,184,405, and in the Gray Eagle and Pochontas Consolidated Mining company it holds 102,850 shares, valued at $314,250.

CONFESSES MURDER

PETALUMA, Cal., Jan. 26.—Rocco Zanetti, a ranch hand, admitted today before a coroner's jury that he shot and killed his wealthy employer, J. C. Albertoni, a Swiss. He said the shooting was accidental.

Zanetti, in the midst of a circumstantial account of how Albertoni killed himself while trying to shoot off the head of a chicken, paused and looked at his interpreter.

"Had I better tell the truth?" he asked.

"It would be best," said the interpreter, and Zanetti confessed.

PART SECOND

Knows Story is a Lie.

Now, senator, I know, of my own knowledge, that story is a lie made out of whole cloth. If any person ventures to question this assertion, I have in my possession proof conclusive, which I hold myself ready to place before your honest and truth-seeking mind.

Says Wilson Had Him Raise Fund.
At Governor Wilson's instance I had undertaken to assist his accredited managers in raising the considerable sums of money needful to the prosecution of his campaign, and in this my efforts were not wholly unfruitful. As the business proceeded, the name of Thomas F. Ryan, not unnaturally came into my mind. He is a Democrat. He is a Virginian. He is my friend. Knowing him to be a disinterested man, having no axe to grind, I hoped that I might induce him to help out what I believed a worthy cause. Governor Wilson's managers were delighted with the suggestion. Colonel Harvey had nothing whatever to do with it, and as far as I am aware, knew nothing whatever about it. Throughout this unhappy affair, I have been an unwilling witness in its consequences—somehow of an innocent bystander—having been, up to the hour of the Harvey incident, a sincere believer in Governor Wilson. He is a man of ability. In some ways he might prove a candidate of availability, but I fear that if he became our president he might discover all too late that he possesses personal peculiarities which would prove disastrous. We want in the White house a man of broad mind, as well as polished intellect, of heart grateful and kind, no less than daring.

I remain, with great respect,
(Signed)
HENRY A. WATKINSON,
Hon. R. R. Tillman.

No Such Request—Wilson.

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—Governor Woodrow Wilson, on his departure for Boston on the midnight express to-night, made the following statement in reference to the Watkinson-Tillman correspondence given out in Washington.

"So far as I am concerned, the statement that Colonel Watkinson was requested to assist in raising money in my behalf is absolutely without foundation. Neither I nor anyone authorized to represent me, ever made such request of him."

Walter F. McCormis, campaign manager for Governor Wilson, after reading the Watkinson-Tillman correspondence tonight as given out in Washington, said:

"I have no comment to make tonight but I shall more than probably make a statement on the subject tomorrow."

M'NAMARA'S ATTORNEY IS FORCED TO TESTIFY
Following Court Ruling, He Tells Grand Jury Where to Find Check Book Stub of Dynamite

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. Jan. 26.—Ladies about J. J. McNamara's expense in paying his defense crew, and in business expenses to show up open shop structures more than two years before his arrest, were made public through the testimony of a grand jury in the McNamara case.

Reporters told the grand jury the names of those to whom McNamara had entrusted the check book stubs and canceled checks, which showed McNamara's in-memo accounts from the summer of 1909 to the day of his arrest, April 22, 1911, and which also showed what disposed of the dynamite had made of the $10,000 a month allowed him in his capacity of secretary, treasurer of the bridge and structural iron workers' organization.

Reporters at first refused to testify, declaring the evidence sought was to the nature of a privileged communication between attorney and client, but after Federal Judge Anderson had ruled that he would be compelled to produce the books if he had them, or to tell who had them, reporters consented to answer the questions.

This investigation is to be delayed by the trial judge, said the court. The jury has been sitting for weeks and it is not yet to be marched up and down the hall for nothing.

The position of the investigators regarding the $10,000 monthly allowance to McNamara was clearly stated by District Attorney Miller before Judge Anderson. Mr. Miller said it had been shown before the grand jury that McNamara used the money unlawfully to ship dynamite and gunpowder to the country and to pay men to set off explosives.

Politics Barred Several Attacks on State's Primary Law, Some of Speakers Urging Its Repeal

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 26.—Politics did not creep into the deliberations of the annual convention of the Republican Editorial Association of Missouri which began a two days' meeting here today. In fact, all the editors had quietly agreed among themselves to keep any discussions of politics out of their gathering at this time.

A discussion on the Missouri primary law resulted in a number of attacks upon it. Several speakers urged its repeal, declaring it was "disrespectable," that it was a "rich man's law," and that it did not give the people a chance to name their candidates because the political organizations always combined for one candidate while the people split among many, thus enabling the politicians to win.

The editors were guests tonight of the Republicans of Kansas City at a dinner at the Coates house.

Charles Nagel, secretary of commerce and labor, praised the general policy of the Republican party.

A little later when Mr. King referred to President Taft as a great president, cheers of the Taft supporters filled the room and quelled the demonstration which followed mention of Roosevelt.

SAN FRANCISCO SOCIETY OUTDOES SELF IN MATTER OF COSTUMES AT BALL

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 26.—San Francisco society was entertained by Mrs. Templeton Crocker tonight with an oriental ball said to have outdone any similar entertainment given in the west, and there were many who contended that it surpassed the celebrated affair given by Mrs. Crocker's cousin, Mrs. Jack Gouraud, in New York not long ago.

The ballroom of a fashionable hotel here had been converted into the semblance of the throne room of King Solomon's temple. Softened red lights gleamed through vapors of incense on walls hung with costly tapestry and other rich decorations and trappings of oriental art. Swarthy attendants, clad in the fantastic dress of Asiatic principalities, lurked in the picture and added materially to the verisimilitude of effect.

The costumes of the participants were varied and wondrous. Mrs. Crocker's mother, Mrs. Will G. Irwin, dressed up the guests in oriental trappings of gold, velvet and silk, with a headpiece of gold, worn with a turban, and a long, flowing robe of gold and silver. A crown, one of the most resplendent ever seen on the Pacific coast, crowned her display of beautiful jewels.

Hostess in Regal Attire.

The hostess was regal. Her mauve, patterned gown was embellished with gold and silver threads. Sapphires and pearls were worn in a sort of tiara, and the dress, and from her coronet, there fell to her bejeweled ankles a veil of silver in a suggestion of the flashing scales of a fish. Breastplates of pearl brilliants and sapphires and a flaming emerald sash completed her costume.

The guests of the ball were in quest of costume effects. This ball had been whispered about for nearly a year, and many had the opportunity to visit the far east in quest of bizarre adornment. India and Turkey contributed perhaps the most picturesque costumes, but southern Italy, Greece and even France added to the gayety and color of the occasion. Dazzling girls were there, the queen of Sheba, Solomon's favorite wife, and any number of gipsy girls. No masks were worn, but an effort to be realistic as possible was striven for, and the faces and arms of many of the women were stained in rich tints to harmonize with the apparel.

The men appeared to us good advantage as their fair partners. With the men, India seemed to be the most favored land for representation, and the Hindi was present in such numbers as might alarm adherents of the Asiatic exclusion league. ILLNESS OF JUROR DELAYS TRIAL ALLEGED DYNAMITER

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 26.—The illness of Charles Calton of Pomona, a juror in the trial of Bert H. Connors, the alleged dynamite plotter, caused a recess in the case from noon today until Monday morning.

At the resumption of the trial it was said that Connors himself would be placed on the stand to tell of his own beliefs and his mysterious visit to the alley adjoining the county hall of records, which he was accused of having conspired to dynamite, September 8, 1910.

Congregation "Withdraws Right Hand of Fellowship" From Minister Who Confessed Murder.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Jan. 26.—Rev. Clarence V. T. Richeson, who is under sentence of death for the murder of his former sweetheart, Avis Linnell, was expelled today from the Baptist church. The action was taken at the regular monthly meeting of the Emmanuel Baptist church, of this city, of which Richeson was pastor at the time of his arrest. The motion, which was carried unanimously, was put in this form:

"Voted that the right hand of fellowship be withdrawn from Clarence V. T. Richeson, and that his name be dropped from the church roll of members."

EXTRA TRAIN FOR PANAMA EXPOSITION CONSIDERED

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 26.—The operating heads of the Harriman railroad ended a two-day conference here this afternoon. The meeting was secret and the only fact given out was that an "extra fare" train between Chicago and San Francisco for the Panama exposition travel was considered. The train de luxe, if run at all, will not make the journey more than once or twice a week.

The Harriman officials still deny that they discussed the shopmen strike and refuse to comment on the story that complaints from the government over the delay in handling mails called for a settlement of the strike or rearrangement of train schedules.

COMPANY TO HAVE CHARGE MOFFAT MINING PROPERTY

DENVER, Jan. 26.—All of the mining properties belonging to the estate of David H. Moffat are to be placed under the management of Philip Argall & Sons and a contract between the executors of the estate and the engineering firm to that effect has been approved by the county court. Some of the mining stocks held by the estate are to be sold, but much of the property is to be developed to its highest state of efficiency.

The executors of the estate, Mrs. Frances A. Moffat, the widow; Mrs. Marcia McClurg, a daughter; and Fred C. Moffat, signed a petition asking the court to approve of the contract. It was stated that the contract had been made with the Argalls on December 1, 1911, subject to the approval of the court. In the inventory of the Moffat estate a value of $4,575,750 is placed on the mining properties, which are represented by 6,058,916 shares of stock in 51 companies.

By the terms of the contract the engineering firm agrees to examine the present condition of the Moffat mining properties and to complete the task not later than January 1, 1913. The firm will also report which properties, in its judgment, should be sold and which should be developed.

The firm is to receive for its compensation 10 per cent of the net income of the properties until its income equals $300,000 per month, and it is to receive 5 per cent of the net income on all over that amount. The compensation is to be the same for the sale of any of the mining stocks held by the estate.

The estate owns 1,000,000 shares of stock in the Truax Mining and Milling company, the interest being valued at $1,800,000. In the venture Gold Mining company it holds stock valued at $249,894; in the Maud of Erin Silver Mines company of Leadville, its interest is valued at $1,164,405, and in the Gray Eagle and Focalton Consolidated Mining company it holds 102,650 shares, valued at $314,380.

CONFESSES MURDER

PETALUMA, Cal., Jan. 26.—Rocco Zanetti, a ranch hand, admitted today before a coroner's jury that he shot and killed his wealthy employer, J. C. Albertoni, a Swiss. He said the shooting was accidental.

Zanetti, in the midst of a circumstantial account of how Albertoni killed himself while trying to shoot out the head of a chicken, paused and looked at his interpreter.

"Had I better tell the truth?" he asked.

"It would be best," said the interpreter, and Zanetti confessed.

which upon a total misapprehension of the facts—you take exception. I have been aware for nearly a week that recognized spokesmen for Governor Wilson were industriously circulating the story that the real reason why Governor Wilson broke with Colonel Harvey was that Colonel Harvey tried to bring Thomas F. Ryan to the governor's campaign. But until you gave credence to the story, it could not be invested with any responsibility or authority. Its origin was mysterious. Its circulation surreptitious. Consequently, there has been up to this time, nothing either to deny or recognize.

Knows Story is a Lie.

Now, senator, I know of my own knowledge, that this story is a lie made out of whole cloth. If any person ventures to question this assertion, I have in my possession proof conclusive, which I hold myself ready to place before your honest and truth-seeking mind.

I do not accuse Governor Wilson of originating or circulating this invention manufactured to make a hero of him at the expense of the friend who has most effectively served him. I do not assume that he is aware of the abominable work being done by his alleged agents, but the fact remains that Governor Wilson knows, as well as I do, that the story is false. He may, or may not, feel that he owes any obligation to Colonel Harvey. That is a matter of which he must be the judge. But I do insist that he owes it to his own honor to repudiate that story and to disavow those who are striving to inject the calumny into the public mind.

EUGENICS

THE word at the head of this column was invented by Sir Francis Galton. In his book entitled "Inquiries Into Human Faculty and Its Development" (1869) he treated of ideas which, at the time, had no name and so, being forced to provide one, he suggested "eugenics."

Eugenics is "the study of agencies under social control that may improve or impair the racial qualities of future generations, either physically or mentally." In other words, the science of eugenics deals with all those "influences that tend in however remote a degree to give to the more suitable races or strains of blood a better chance of prevailing speedily over the less suitable than they otherwise would have had." Students of eugenics believe that "blood will tell" in men as well as in horses and cattle; they believe that there are definite laws of human heredity which are possible to ascertain; they are working to discover these laws; their ultimate object is to make the laws discovered effective, through education or legal enactment, in improving the human race.

The importance of the propaganda that goes by the name of eugenics is obvious. Some of its supporters go so far as to claim that no nation can keep its vigor and hence its power without adopting a policy that will result in the reproduction of the best types rather than the worst types of its citizens. They call attention to the undisputed facts that the more successful people in the United States, France and England either do not, as a class, marry at all, or if they do marry their families rarely have more than two or three children; and that, on the other hand, tenement house families are notably large.

Numerous other facts are marshalled to support their contention. "The cloisters and nunneries of the Middle Ages and the academic celibacy of present times alike are proven apt means to the elimination of superior intellect. The irreparable debasement of type which followed the course of the Inquisition in Spain yields a germane and telling argument. Historians are quoted to the effect that the human race received a serious setback through the destruction of the best blood of Europe in the Napoleonic wars. The decline and fall of the Roman Empire is ascribed to the gradual extinction of the best families of Rome."

There are many evidences of a widespread interest in eugenics. In Washington, D. C., there is an endowed institution called the Volta Bureau. It was established twenty-five years ago by Dr. Alexander Graham Bell for the purpose of studying heredity in deaf-mutes. At University College, London, there is a Eugenics Laboratory, founded in 1905 and endowed by Sir Francis Galton. This Laboratory has issued many important studies on heredity. At Cold Spring Harbor, Long Island, a Eugenics Record Office was founded in 1910 by the Eugenics Section of the American Breeders' Association. The main work of the Record Office is the collection of family pedigrees revealing the presence of some trait or defect, the inheritance of which is to be studied. "The material is recorded in genealogical charts, with the aid of conventional symbols showing at a glance not only degrees of relationship, but also legitimacy, sex, cause of death, bad habits, diseases, or defects such as alcoholism, habitual wandering, criminality, sexual immorality, tuberculosis, syphilis, epilepsy, feeble-mindedness, insanity, paralysis, neurotic condition, deafness, blindness, or, if the information establishes, normality."

Although the present eugenics movement may be traced back to the period following the publication of Darwin's "Origin of Species" in 1859, yet it has become a popular movement only during the last decade. Nearly all that is known of the laws of heredity has been discovered during the last fifty years. Even now our knowledge of human inheritance of physical and mental qualities is meagre. Much more is known of inheritance in plants and animals than in man. Progress in human inheritance has been made, however, despite the opposition of those who thought that "the attempt to find laws of inheritance for human beings is sacrilegious beings are superior to the natural laws that govern reproduction in the lower animals."

Nevertheless the movement has progressed. In England a Eugenics Educational Society was founded in 1907. It now has a membership of over 500 and maintains a quarterly journal, The Eugenics Review. The Society has arranged to hold the First International Congress on Eugenics in London, in July, 1912.

The Eugenics movement has already had some effect on legislation in the United States. Although legislation is almost powerless to enforce an affirmative decree, yet it can enforce a decree in the nature of "Thou shalt not." Sterilization of criminals, imbeciles and the insane by surgical operation has been legalized as a preventive of procreation by Indiana (1907), California (1909), Connecticut (1911) and New Jersey (1914).

The legislation that has been adopted in the United States appears to be well advised. More extensive legislative action, however, is not warranted by the present state of our knowledge of the laws of heredity.

OPEN PARLIAMENT

SOCIALISM.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

Magnanimity is a noble quality, indeed, but when a person suppresses his own honest convictions, principles, or ideals, for fear of being forward, he debases that quality. It is the duty of every person who has opinions, which in his sincere belief may benefit humankind, to promulgate them, notwithstanding that he may be crucified, burned at the stake, or even get his name in the newspapers while so doing. It is only by airing opinions in the open that the public can be educated to understand the vital problems concerning its welfare. Such men as Mr. Lockwood are a blessing to a community for there are very few people, despite of their high education and training, who are capable of expressing themselves intelligently on any problems, especially in an open form.

The arguments of Mr. Lockwood carry greater weight in being proffered by his courageous confession that he is not an organization Socialist, because organization Socialists have suffered themselves to be contaminated with the very sinners in the practices which they point out as deplorable in the Republican and Democratic parties. We have a typical example of an organization Socialist in Mr. Bernat. It is obvious to all men possessed of a grain of common sense, that the questions I put are not only germane to Socialism, but attack and undermine its very fundamentals. But Mr. Bernat, instead of honestly joining the healthy discussion, nonchalantly dismisses the questions as irrelevant, retreats to Carpenters' hall, shouting with the ludicrous bravado of a street archer, "Come over here and I'll tell you!"

Believing that the Open Parliament of The Gazette reaches more people than a dozen Carpenters' halls combined, I shall with the kind indulgence of the editor, expatiate on the questions put.

1. "Is the theory (or philosophy) of Socialism infallible in its proposition to abolish all the evils responsible for the misery of mankind?" Before entering the discussion, it is necessary to lay a foundation by obtaining a correct idea of what Socialism really means. Of late there have sprung up many schools of Socialism, advocating various doctrines which are difficult to reconcile. There seems to be a strong, inexplicable tendency to drift away from the original philosophy of Karl Marx. Some believe that public ownership of public utilities means Socialism, others believe if the working class were given the just share of the products of their labor, then we would have Socialism, and still others, especially those of the latest schools, believe that Christianity, itself, is synonymous with Socialism—all of which is palpably erroneous.

Socialism is an economic philosophy which aims for the abolition of the individual as an independent factor of society. In other words, the socialization of all the means of production and distribution. At present the means of production and distribution are in the hands of individuals. Socialism aims to substitute society for the individual. By all the means of production and distribution, it means every conceivable human activity which requires the operation of capital and labor, which necessarily includes all industries, manufactures and utilities of whatever nature. There is apparently only one method by which such a theory can be adopted and that is by society or the government confiscating all the capital now in the hands of individuals, and transferring all the people the servants of the government. Whether such a system will abolish all the evils responsible for the misery of mankind, is up to your Socialist correspondents to answer. That Socialism is not infallible is true, because nothing which human ingenuity can devise or conceive can be said to be infallible. Let us survey the other questions and see if we cannot gain some more light on the subject.

2. "Why is it, notwithstanding that the European countries, virtually own and control all public utilities, the social and economic conditions of the people en masse is inferior to America, where private ownership is a predominant institution?"

3. "Is it not true that the superiority of America in industry and labor is due principally to the unrestricted freedom of individual initiative and private ownership?" The two questions are taken together because the latter is nothing but the corollary of the former. Now, while it is true that public ownership of public utilities is not Socialism, yet it must be admitted that it is one of the characteristic features of Socialism; and if Socialism is a failure in one of its leading features, then surely it will be a failure in toto.

The excuse advanced by Mr. Lockwood for the failure of public ownership in Europe to ameliorate the condition of the workmen is that the institutions referred to are "not for profit" and that the governments are monarchial. Well, Mr. Lockwood, what do you think of republican America, where the postoffice, until recently, was run at a tremendous loss; are the conditions of the underpaid, overworked postoffice employees any better than that of any other private industry?

Of course America's superiority in industry and labor is due, mainly, to the backing which the government gives individual initiative and private ownership. The government owns the mineral lands; it can keep on owning them till doomsday and no one will be benefited. But, when it grants a right to a private party to locate and develop a claim, then multitudes of people are benefited. The individual initiative of your forefathers drove them to the shores of this continent to open a world for civilized being. The individual initiative of the pioneers developed the great territory west of the Mississippi and the Rockies, where are now found flourishing cities and cultivated lands instead of barren plains.

What is meant is the term individual initiative. Individual initiative implies, perseverance, enterprise, invention, speculation, energy, wisdom, and all the other qualities which contribute to a person's success. The government being nothing but a gigantic corporation, without a body, soul, or intellect, cannot exercise the qualities which make for an individual's success; hence the proposition of socializing industries must necessarily result in a fizzle. Progress will cease, invention and enterprise will halt, instead of rich and poor there will be poor only and nations will decay until the human race will be extinct. Such must be the logical working of Socialism.

4. "Are all human beings equal, if not, is it not true that even under Socialism some will be essentially rule and others obey—some will be masters and others servants and the social inequalities which are productive of the present-day evils may still exist?"

Mr. Lockwood admits, contrary to the belief of many of his fellow Socialists, that all human beings are not equal, that even under Socialism some will command and others obey. The law of human nature makes the lot of the one who obeys, always one of misery and discontent; any person, no matter how ignorant or inefficient, would rather command than obey. Accordingly, I fail to see how Socialism will ever make the working class satisfied with its lot, for that class will naturally always antagonize the ruling class. The animosity between master and servants will be just as bitter under Socialism as it is at present.

The world is sadly in need of a new philosophy—one which will teach mankind how to distribute the products of their labor equally. Socialism proposes to do nothing of the kind. It aims to curtail production by taking the means thereof away from the individual and operating them itself. As I have proven that such a policy is very impracticable, it follows logically that Socialism is a detriment to progress and a menace to the human race. Of course logic, itself, is not infallible and I may be wrong after all.

"THE QUEST OF THE SILVER FLEECE"

To the Editor of The Gazette:

No one could read Prof. W. E. B. DuBois' new book, "The Quest of the Silver Fleece," without agreeing that he has told the story "well, beautifully and truthfully." The poor colored boy and girl, beginning their romance in the swamps, finally build there a school which is a guide to the teeming millions of a race who must climb life's rugged hills step by step with faltering and discouraging outlook for the justice that is due every human soul. I want to urge every person whose heart feels for the wrongs done, and injustice perpetrated upon a race on account of color, to lay aside prejudice and read and ponder conscientiously each page and chapter of this noble book. Many pages unveil existing conditions between the white and colored race, although abhorred, still true, strikes one key-note of how, though regarded "as dumb driven cattle," the price of colored humanity or cotton is sought on "equal basis" by the deprived white man. This literary production takes its place, as a plea for a despised though advancing race of ten-million human souls.

Sunflower Philosophy

A winning smile a man may wear when seated in his easy chair, his slippers on his feet, while out of doors, over vale and hill, the man who runs the weather mill is spreading snow and sleet. It isn't hard to spring a laugh while winding up the phonograph which grinds out OPTIMISM, joyous strains, and one may chortle loud, gadzooks, when pawing over recent books produced by Laura Jones. But when the housewife says: "Old sport, nothing you'd better come to court the muse for awhile, and to the basement now repair, and tinker with the furnace there," can you still wear a smile? I've gone down to those realms below a stranger to all grief and we, to all that's sad and blue; but when I shook the hanged old grate, and clawed out cinders, stones and slate, my smile went up the flue. As I came up the cellar stairs it was a treat to hear me swear for those who liked spoiled words; and then the hausfrau said: "For shame! That is no way to play the game! Sing like the dickie-birds!"

THE DAILY CHIT CHAT
BY RUTH CAMERON

Are there any words in the English language which you love?

"Now please don't smile or sniff at that. I think there ought to be.

It seems to me that we practical, utilitarian folks, who are inclined to look upon language merely as a colorless medium of expressing meaning, don't appreciate the beauty, color, and music of words half enough.

There are certain words in the English language for which I have positive affection. I am going to tell you some of them, and then I want you to send me a list of your favorites, and some day we'll have a symposium on that subject.

If I were obliged to select my chiefest favorite of all the words in the language, I think it would be "serene." To me there is a world of meaning and music in those two syllables. Just to repeat it, when I am restless and fretful, helps to soothe and restore me to myself. What a grace and charm its use gives the line "Serenely I fold my hands and wait." Replace it by some other word, as for instance "Calmly I fold my hands and wait," and see how much the line loses.

"Tranquil" and its noun "tranquility" are two more words that I love.

"Rose" and "saffron" are color words which to me possess a richness and poetic charm which their synonyms entirely lack. The dictionary says that saffron means "a deep orange-yellow." Surely even the most prosaic person will admit that "saffron" is a far more beautiful way to express that color than "deep orange-yellow." "Rose," of course, is the equivalent of "pink," but replace it by pink in "And all the western sky was streaked with rose," and see how much beauty you lose.

"Peace" is a word which I love almost as well as "serene." I suppose in this case it must be wholly the associations, since the word is too short and abstruse to be intrinsically musical, but whatever the reason, it seems to me as if there were a benediction for troubled spirits in the word itself.

I like to read that verse in John 14:27, whenever I come upon it—"Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you; not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid." And I confess I have often gone to church largely for the pleasure of hearing my head under the comforting music of that wonderful phrase "The peace that passeth all understanding."

What words do you love? Surely in the light of this talk you have already discovered some. Send me some of your favorites and some day we will compare them in these columns and see what English words have won a special place in the hearts of the American people.

The Great Conflict
A Half Century Ago Today

JANUARY 27, 1862

The Reverend Bishop Ames of the Methodist Episcopal church, and Hamilton Fish of New York were appointed by the president as commissioners to visit the Confederate prisons and tend to the necessities and wants of the Union soldiers held there. The Norfolk Day Book commented as follows on the appointments: "The Hon. Edwin M. Stanton, who succeeds General Cameron in King Lincoln's war office, favors us with a remarkable document, the cool effrontery of which excites our unqualified admiration. The exquisite modesty of this proposition to send official inspectors of our defenses and general condition entitled Mr. Stanton to the reputation of being the most impudent man among all King Lincoln's proverbially impudent subjects."

In the West Virginia legislature a proposition was introduced to provide that no slave should be brought into the state, and that all children born of slave parents after the first of January, 1865, should be free, and placed under an apprenticeship by the state. The proposition was referred to the committee on general provisions.

Diplomatic correspondence passed between Earl Russell and Secretary Seward, in which the former condemned in strong terms the fact that the British schooner James Campbell, captured for a breach of the blockade, had been brought into New York with the English flag flying below the American flag. Secretary Seward replied that the unseemly act was occasioned by a misapprehension of his duties on the part of the Federal officer in charge of the prize, and that orders had been issued to prevent a repetition of the offense.

The president of the United States issued General Order No. 1, commanding a general advance against the Confederate forces in the field on February 22.

RAILWAY STOCKHOLDERS ASKED TO INCREASE STOCK

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—Announcement was made this afternoon that stockholders of the Lackawanna railroad will be asked at their first meeting, February 20, to vote on a proposal to increase the capital stock from $30,277,000 to $42,277,000. The proceeds are to be used for improving the lines in Pennsylvania.

The stockholders also will be asked to vote on the proposal to lease the Syracuse, Binghamton & New York railroad, in accordance with the terms of a lease, already approved by the stockholders of the latter road.

DOCTOR WHO TRIED TO BLOW UP WOMAN MUST SERVE TIME

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Jan. 26.—Dr. W. P. Burke, convicted of having attempted to murder Miss Lu Etta Smith and her infant at the Burke sanatorium, near Santa Rosa, by the use of dynamite, must serve the 10-year sentence which was affirmed today by the court of appeals.

Lu Etta Smith and her child were living in a tent house at the sanatorium. The dynamite was placed beside the tent and exploded, but mother and child escaped serious injury. It was alleged at the trial that Burke was the father of the child.

STEAMERS WEATHER STORM

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 26.—Battered about by a terrific southeaster for 36 hours, the steamers Beaver and Admiral Sampson arrived today from the north coast. During the storm, passengers were forced to lock themselves in their staterooms, and several were injured, none seriously.

Third Officer J. Smith was at the wheel when the sea stove in the pilot house. He was painfully injured, but remained at his post until relief came.

OBJECTS TO DISCUSSION TRUST LAW AMENDMENT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—When Louis D. Brandeis of Boston appeared before the house judiciary committee today to discuss the Lenroot amendment to the Sherman antitrust law, which would read into the statute the rule of reason, and would make unlawful a restraint of trade through patent rights, counsel for the United States Machinery company objected, and asked for a postponement. The company has been sued by the government as a "trust," largely because of its control of patented machinery. The committee decided to hear Mr. Brandeis with the understanding that nothing prejudicial to the defendant company would be permitted. In the merger of Tennessee Coal & Iron with the United States Steel corporation Brandeis said he thought President Roosevelt might have been "inadequately advised."

Choose Your Partner

(Copyrighted, 1912, by Laura Jean Libbey.)

What words are more alluring to childhood and youth alike, from the ring-around-a-rosy time to the barn dance period of later years, than the command cheerily given, "Choose your partners!"

In aftertime the young man does not have to be notified as to this pleasant duty. Afterward it is his heart which whispers to him: "Choose your partner."

That this is a serious matter who still doubts? If each bright-eyed girl that crossed his path were the same as another there would be no occasion for choosing among them.

The fact that there is a choice shows one that he will be sure to know when he finds himself in the presence of the one who will be his life partner.

A certain magnetism will draw them together. Once in a while intuition so blinds you that he only guesses he has the fever then call love in his breast. Partners do not have to go far together before they discern whether they are keeping step in life's giddy waltz.

If partners find their attractions are not serious they have only to bow and smile and go their separate ways. But the life partner is quite another proposition. They must dance to each other's whims and fancies all their lives.

A girl cannot choose her partner for a waltz, nor can a woman stop boldly forth and choose from a world of men one who appeals to her.

There are times when choosing a partner vests itself entirely upon a woman's judgment, for instance, when two or three individuals make her a life partnership offer, each insisting that he is the right one upon whom her choice must eventually rest. In such a decision the wise girl simply shuts her eyes and trusts entirely to the guidance of her heart.

Many a life would be happier if the choosing could rest with the woman from start to finish. But unfortunately woman must wait to be chosen. Upon the choosing of a life partner rests unalloyed happiness, the union two hearts that beat as one, an after life of contentment and unalloyed joy, or a future which has no rainbow, nothing but sullen clouds.

The choosing of a sweetheart should mean the choosing of a bride. It will be seen that there is much to be considered in that mystical, beautiful thought: "I must choose a partner."

ANSWERS

WHAT'S LIKING TO LOVING?

"Dear Miss Libbey: Am fairly good looking and quite jolly. Am usually nice to all my friends, but not long ago I found my heart was with another, so I treat them coolly. I met a young chap somewhat older than I am a short time ago, and liked him. I'm sure the feeling was mutual. When we met again I felt I loved him. Now I know he likes me, but what is liking to loving? Since I met him I lose all my humor and talk so strangely and sadly. I told him what other boys have told me about expressing, and for that reason I said I knew better than to go on with all the boys. He seems to think that the girls run after him, or at least he told me about two that did. Shall I treat him coldly and act real sweet to the other boys when he's around. NELL."

Don't be silly. Nell, or romantic, which I am afraid you are. Treat him as you would any boy or girl friend.

HE HAS ONLY SALARY.

"Dear Miss Libbey: I am a young man of 23 years. I have a position that pays a salary of $70, and have a chance for promotion if I can stick to it, but it may be a long time before I can earn the salary necessary to provide for the girl of my choice, as she has been accustomed to luxury and comfort all her life. I met her last winter and since that time my attentions have been favored until a few days ago, when she happened to learn in some manner that I had nothing more than my salary. Her attitude changed very suddenly on that account, and I can plainly see, at this time, that in a few days she will be what one would call indifferent."

"Please advise as to how I can win back the love that once was mine, as it would be a great blow to lose the love of this beautiful girl. JEROME."

Jerome, you can't win back love often. Better accept her present attitude toward you. She evidently didn't love you much or she wouldn't have acted as she did. Never mind. Plenty of nice girls in the world.

FOR 1911, $238,804.04

The net mining profit of the Vindicator Consolidated Gold Mining Company for 1911 was $238,804.04, according to the annual report just issued. F. L. Sigel of Denver is president and general manager.

With the previously announced dividend of $45,000, paid last Thursday, a total of $2,452,500 in dividends has been disbursed by the company. In the report of G. S. Wood, secretary-treasurer, it is shown that the company shipped a total of 19,232 net tons in 1911, with an assay value of $647,710.19, leaving $529,349.05 in gross proceeds after the freight and treatment expenses were paid. A total of 11,001 net tons were shipped by lessees, with an assay value of $182,611.92. The gross proceeds after treatment and freight expenses amounted to $121,191.04. A grand total of 30,233 net tons were shipped on company and lessee account during the year with an assay value of $830,322.11. The total gross receipts were $851,042.09. The total mine expense for the year was $317,570.18, and $54,667.87 was paid to lessees.

Fred W. Crosley, mine engineer, reports for the year a total of 4,125 feet in development work on drifts; 2,821.5 feet in crosscuts, 15 feet in winzes; 249 feet in raises, or a grand total of 7,210.5 feet. There has been a grand total of 175,163 feet in development work in the history of the mine.

ROCK ISLAND BUSINESS BREAKS EVERY RECORD

An unusual story of prosperity is told in the business that the local railroad representatives have been handling this winter, especially in the passenger departments. At the city passenger offices of the Rock Island, it is reported that business is better than at any other time in the history of the office.

Not only are the receipts greater than during corresponding months of a year ago, but more money has been taken in than during any of the tourist months last summer. Figures for this month and that of December are almost double that of December and January a year ago.

"I do not know how to explain the fact," yesterday said R. S. Torrington, city passenger agent for the Rock Island. "All I know is that such a condition exists and it is natural to assume that when people are traveling there is plenty of money."

Here is a remedy that will cure your cold. Why waste time and money experimenting when you can get a preparation that has won a worldwide reputation by its cures of this disease, and can always be depended upon? It is known everywhere as Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and is a medicine of real merit. For sale by all dealers.

Baden-Powell May Yet
Visit Springs in March

C. M. Balkam, scout commissioner, and the Boy Scouts of Colorado Springs have not given up the hope of entertaining Sir Robert Baden-Powell during his visit to America. It is assured that he will visit Denver, March 2, and the local Boy Scouts are planning to bring him here for at least an hour.

The Boy Scouts of the city possessing uniforms are asked to congregate at Pikes Peak avenue and Tejon street, at 1 o'clock this afternoon, for a "hike" to the gateway of the Garden of the Gods. They will be met at the Busy Corner by A. W. Henderson, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, and the official stenographer.

A number of pictures of the Boy Scouts will be taken in the Garden of the Gods, for advertising purposes. In addition, a number of the photographs will be forwarded to New York for use at the national council meeting, February 9-10.

CHAMPION CHECKER PLAYER HERE TODAY

Newell W. Banks, champion checker player of the United States and Canada, will play a number of exhibition games at the Chamber of Commerce this afternoon, beginning at 2:30 o'clock. He will play simultaneously all the chess and checker players who desire to meet him, and the Colorado Springs Chess Club extends an invitation to all players in the vicinity to be present. Those desiring to play are requested to take boards and men. The champion will be accompanied on his trip here by Prof. C. O. Kanaga, late chess and checker editor of the Denver Times, his Colorado manager and who is accompanying him on his tour of the state.

Mr. Banks will also play exhibition games at the El Paso Club this evening at 8 o'clock, the chess and checker members of the club being his opponents. On his present tour the champion plays crossboard matches of either chess or checkers in the afternoons, generally with the strongest players available, and in the evenings the interesting simultaneous contests are played.

Mr. Banks is a native of Detroit and learned to play checkers when 8 years old. At the age of 13 he won the state championship of Michigan. He won the American title in February, 1910, and since last October has been on a tour of America, which bids fair to rival that of Alfred Jordan, the English champion last year. Mr. Banks goes to Idaho Springs next Monday and from there to Denver.

Registration now is going on at Colorado college for the second term, which begins next Monday. Among those registering are a number of new students, and more are expected early in the week. The school of music also opens Monday with instruction in piano, voice, violin theory of music and composition. Dean Hale of the music school will be in his office each morning to meet new students.

Professor Albert Bushnell Hart, exchange professor from Harvard university, will not be in Colorado Springs until May, as he is lecturing but one month in each of the four institutions with which Harvard has entered into this exchange plan. Professor Hart's lectures at Colorado college will be on some phase of American history, three hours each week, and a course of lectures on American biography, two hours a week. He also will conduct a seminary in American history for advanced students.

Coughlin to Retain Zoo;
Will Add Many Features

Alderman J. J. Coughlin of Chicago is planning to add several attractions to Zoo park the coming summer, according to information received here yesterday. He denies a report that he intends to lease or sell the park. W. W. Gall, manager of the Zoo ball team last year, will be in charge again, and preparations are already under way for the opening of the season. Games have been booked with the Denver Western league team for two days the middle of April. Mr. Coughlin is building a residence on Cheyenne road, a short distance this side of the Broadmoor loop, which he and Mrs. Coughlin will occupy this summer.

GET VALUABLE IDEAS

Representatives from the Colorado Springs school board gained valuable information in their trip to Denver in regard to plans for the new High school building here. They inspected the North Denver and Manual Training High schools, and paid particular attention to the manual training departments. Those who made the trip were C. M. Cole, superintendent, the members of the board of education and C. E. Thomas of the firm of MacLaren & Thomas, architects. The school board has not closed the deal for all the property on the proposed site.

WEIGHING LICENSES ISSUED

At its meeting yesterday, the city council granted licenses to 14 coal dealers to weigh in their own scales outside the city limits. A license was refused the Patterson Coal company on the ground of alleged irregularity in weights.

Authority was given the city treasurer to call in $28,000 worth of water bonds and $10,000 worth of city hall bonds, the former payable March 1, and the latter, March 3. A request of the union depot commission, that its annual report be published in pamphlet form, was taken under advisement. The work will cost $60.

E. A. Barnett was appointed a special policeman without pay, one of his duties being to preserve order at the dances given in Robbins hall. The annual reports of the city auditor, water superintendent and health department were submitted and placed on file. The reports have already been summarized in The Gazette.

COLORADO SPRINGS

PROMINENT SOCIETY PEOPLE AT ANNUAL BALL OF EL PASO CLUB

Amid elaborate decorations and brilliant lights, the guests in attendance at the annual reception and ball of the El Paso club, conceded to be the leading social function of the year in Colorado Springs, thoroughly enjoyed the occasion last night at the club house. Fully 200 participated, all that could be accommodated.

Southern aulax, in great profusion, mingled with chrysanthemums, apple blossoms and shooting star blossoms, formed the arches and made a thicket in front of the bay window in the large reading room, where Lohmann's orchestra furnished the dance music. The entrance of the staircase was wreathed with southern smilax and potted ferns, and palms and other tropical plants were placed in the nooks and corners. The mantels and fireplaces were basked with azaleas, Roman hyacinths, narcissus and other potted plants, and with the tiny red, white and green electric globes gleaming within the leaves of smilax, made a beautiful scene.

The piazza was enclosed and trimmed with evergreens. Small gas stoves inside the temperature agreeable to the dancers, who sought the inviting, cozy corners with which the place was furnished. The library and chess rooms also were popular retreats for the guests who did not dance.

In the Receiving Line.

The guests were presented to the ladies in the receiving line by Edgar J. Ulrich, vice president, and H. Livingston Center, secretary of the club. The ladies receiving were Mrs. Francis W. Goddard, Mrs. S. Edwin Solly and Mrs. Chalmers B. Schley.

Mrs. Goddard wore a rich silver gown with overdrapes of black tulle embroidered in cream and bordered with fringe. Rose point lace and jet garniture. Diamonds and pearls. Mrs. Solly wore an imported gown of pink embroidered crepe garniture with cream lace applique and pearls. Mrs. Schley wore white duchesse satin garniture with silk embroidery and lace. Diamonds.

Each of the ladies were presented with large clusters of double violets by the club, and the members of the committee of arrangements. Dr. John P. McConnell, Dunbar F. Carpenter, Louis Gibbs Carpenter and Chalmers B. Schley were boutonnières of violets.

A course supper was served in the dining rooms, beginning at 11:30 o'clock. The tables were ornamented with poinsettias, Roman hyacinths, paper white narcissus and other reasonable flowers. The menu was as follows:

Consortance
Celery, Almond Olives
Oyster Patties, Poularde
Aspic of Guinea Fowl Virginia
Pommes, Carrots, Rolls
Nesselrode Pudding, Cakes
Mignon Water, Cafe Noir

Why Pay Big Prices?

It does not always follow that high prices mean the highest quality of goods. On the other hand, there is usually no economy in purchasing an extremely low priced article. Housekeepers of good judgment in selection, and knowledge of quality, find it advantageous placing their orders where quality and prices harmonize.

TWO MEN ARE INJURED IN AN AUTO ACCIDENT

In an automobile accident yesterday morning, on the Canon City road, at a point about 20 miles south of Colorado Springs, two men were injured and an automobile was almost completely demolished. The two men injured were A. K. McRae, proprietor of the Florence Automobile company, Florence, and W. K. Hurd, another business man of that town.

The accident happened at about 10 o'clock. Mr. McRae suffered from a broken right arm, his left shoulder was dislocated and he received several bruises about the body. Mr. Hurd was cut about the face and arms.

Warden Tynan of the state penitentiary happened to be passing along the road in his machine a few minutes after the accident. He placed the injured men in his car and brought them to this city. It was several minutes afterwards before Mr. McRae returned to consciousness. They were given treatment by Dr. W. C. Allen and sent home last night.

Way down South in Texas on the Gulf

Galveston fronts the Gulf of Mexico, "Way down South" in Texas. Where roses and oleanders and palms grow outdoors in January is a good place to winter in that's self-evident.

Galveston, too, has Hotel Galvez—a new million-dollar edifice, located near the beach and seawall.

You will like Hotel Galvez, once you enter its doors. A charming southern hospitality is supplemented by all the luxuries of Fifth Avenue.

Go to Galveston this winter on the Santa Fe. The train service is convenient. The excursion fares are low.

FACTORY GIRL GIVES UP

Compound.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y.—"I run a sewing machine in a large factory and got all run down. I had to give up work for I could not stand the pains in my back. The doctor said I needed an operation for female trouble but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helped me more than the doctors did. I hope that every one who is suffering will get the Compound. My pains, nervousness and backache are gone and I have gained five pounds. I owe my thanks to your medicine for it is the working girl's friend, and all women who suffer should write to you for special advice." Miss TILLIE FRENZIG, 3 Jay St., Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

When a remedy has lived for over thirty years, steadily growing in popularity and influence, and thousands upon thousands of women declare they owe their very lives to it, is it not reasonable to believe that it is an article of great merit?

We challenge anyone to show any other one remedy for a special class of disease which has attained such an enormous demand and maintained it for so many years as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Colorado City DEPARTMENT TO PREPARE CHARTER FOR TOWN OF RAMONA

It was stated by business men here yesterday that the proposed town of Ramona will become a reality if Colorado City is held to be an antislavery territory by the state supreme court.

A charter for the new town is being drawn up by attorneys and plans are being discussed for its establishment. Those interested say that a modern resort town will be built, and should the supreme court uphold the ruling of District Judge Shearer and declare Colorado City dry, a road through to the Modern Woodmen sanatorium from Colorado City is one of the features planned at this time. A baseball park for the proposed new town is also being discussed, and it is said a Colorado Springs man is ready to build a ball park in Ramona if the town is incorporated and improved.

Men in close touch with the matter admitted yesterday that the town is only a possibility, however, although preliminary steps have been taken toward preparing incorporation papers.

ICE PLANT TO OPEN EARLY IN FEBRUARY

It was announced yesterday that the Colorado City ice plant, which was destroyed by fire about a year ago and which is being rebuilt, will be ready to resume operations by February 10, unless some unforeseen delay occurs. Workmen have been busy for the last several weeks putting the plant in first class shape. It expects to maintain a capacity of about 10 tons a day. Wilgus & McCarthy are operating the plant. They will also do a fruit commission business during the summer.

CABOOSE RUNS WILD IN SHORT LINE YARDS

While cars were being switched at the Colorado City Junction on the Short Line yesterday noon, a caboose broke loose and ran nearly to the Short Line yards in Colorado Springs, finally jumping the track and turning over. But for the fact that it left the track it would have run into the yards. It might have caused a serious accident. The caboose was wrecked. Trainmen ran after the car for several hundred yards, but were unable to catch it.

BOY'S DEATH DUE TO SPINAL MENINGITIS

The 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Fisher of Jefferson avenue and Third street died yesterday afternoon of spinal meningitis. The child had been ill for some time and was lately reported to be recovering. This is the first case that has ever been reported in this city. There is much anxiety over the possible spread of the disease, which has been very fatal in the south this winter. No arrange-

Due to necessary repairs, gas will be shut off the mains supplying the West Side and Colorado City on Saturday morning, from 8 until 10 o'clock.

DR. F. P. LYNCH HERE

Dr. Franklin Pierce Lynch of Portuguese Congo, West Africa, is a guest of the Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Franklin this week at their home, 609 North Tejon street. Tomorrow morning at the First Baptist church Mr. Lynch will tell of his work. In the evening he will speak at the Baptist church in Colorado City.

Dr. Lynch is a graduate of Yale university and is former superintendent of a large hospital at Bridgeport, Conn. Later he went to Africa with his wife to devote his life to the work of uplifting the natives, physically, mentally and morally. His wife died there. The Rev. Mr. Franklin was a guest of Dr. Lynch at Mukimvika during his trip to central Africa in 1910.

Starkweather Is Given Farewell Remembrance

Employees of the Acacia hotel presented Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Starkweather with a gold-mounted writing desk set before they left for Denver, where Mr. Starkweather, with L. F. Niedamus, has taken a lease on the Savoy hotel. The gift was in appreciation of their kindness to the employees during the time that Mr. Starkweather was manager of the Acacia. S. J. Bush, the new manager, made the presentation speech. A farewell dinner was given Mr. and Mrs. Starkweather Thursday evening. They left yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

What the Press Agents Say

THE STROLLERS QUARTET

The Y. M. C. A. was very fortunate to secure for the star course this year the male quartet known as the "Strollers." They have had more requests for engagements than they could fill, and those who have heard them have nothing but words of praise. Mr. Ralph Dunbar, of bell-ringer fame, says they are among the best on the platform. They appear as the third number in the star course at the Opera house tonight.

Emporium

Juicy navel oranges with a charming tree-ripened flavor are now for sale at your dealer's. They are pleasingly economical and, in addition, the dining table can be furnished with beautiful silverware by saving the wrappers and sending them to us with a few stamps to partly pay charges, packing, etc. The genuine come in tissue wrappers marked "Sunkist." Your dealer will supply you at extremely reasonable prices.

Free-Ripened—Picked With Gloves
Only the very finest oranges from the best California groves are packed under the name "Sunkist." Each orange is allowed to ripen on the tree, thus producing the wonderful "Sunkist" flavor. At maturity they are carefully picked and packed by gloved hands.

Seedless and Solid
Every "Sunkist" is perfect. Each is solid meat—seedless and juicy. Most delicious and healthful of fruits. Most wholesome fruit for children—better than sweets. Tones digestion and satisfies sweet tooth.

Begin Saving Valuable Wrappers Today
Be sure to say "Sunkist"—not merely "oranges." You will know "Sunkist" by their handsome appearance and by the printed wrappers.

This Is Your Beautiful Orange Spoon
Save 12 "Sunkist" orange or lemon wrappers, or trademarks cut from wrappers, and send them to us, with 12c in stamps to help pay charges, packing, etc., and we will send you this genuine Rogers' silver orange spoon. For each additional spoon send 12 wrappers or trademarks and 12c in stamps. Not responsible for cash sent through the mails.

S.S.S. PURELY VEGETABLE

It is a generally recognized truth that medicines made from vegetable ingredients are a great deal better adapted to the delicate human system, and safer in every way, than those composed of strong mineral mixtures and compounds. Mercury, potash, arsenic, etc., which are used in the manufacture of most blood medicines, are too violent in their action, and frequently derange the system by disturbing the stomach and digestion, affecting the bowels, and when used for a prolonged period often cause Rheumatism. S. S. S. is the only blood medicine guaranteed absolutely and purely vegetable. It is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, selected for their purifying and healing qualities. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Scrofula, Contagious Blood Poison, and all other blood diseases, because it cleanses and purifies the blood, and at the same time builds up the entire system by its fine vegetable tonic effects. S. S. S. may be taken by young and old with absolute safety, and with the assurance that it will cure the diseases and disorders due to an impure and poisoned blood supply, even reaching down and removing hereditary taints. Book on the blood and any medical advice free to all who write.

R. G. DUN WEEKLY REVIEW

SPORTS NEWS

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Jan. 26.—A rich strike for the Battle Mountain section is reported made by the leasing firm of McAnroe & Co. of Victor, operating the Nevada fraction on the southern slope of Battle mountain, immediately adjacent to the Ajax Gold Mining company's estate.

Operating through the Clinton tunnel, the lessees by upraise have exposed rich ore, and a shipment loaded out Thursday is of smelting grade, as shown by the assay tests. Values range from three to eight and 10 ounces gold to the ton, and the screenings shipped are estimated at not less than five ounces gold or $100 to the ton. The necessity was for a long time to keep the tunnel through the protracted litigation. A compromise was effected and the owning corporation is now known as the Clinton-Ajax Gold Mining company.

Zenobia Back With Shippers.

The Zenobia mine on Bull Hill, owned by the Zenobia Gold Mining company, a corporation controlled by the Stratton estate, under lease to W. R. Morris of this city, has been brought back to the shipping list. Operating through the old incline shaft on the north end of the claim, ore has been encountered not far distant from the Thompson west side line. The vein is from three to four feet wide, and a shipment loaded out yesterday is estimated by the management at $30 grade.

Indicator Dividend.

Dividend checks for the first quarterly dividend for 1912 of the Indicator Consolidated Gold Mining company, bearing Thursday's date, were received by resident stockholders Friday. The dividend, No. 54 for the Indicator company, was at the rate of 2 cents per share and totals $45,000.

Mary Nevlin Tunnel.

The Mary Nevlin tunnel, penetrating the Mary Nevlin claim from the eastern slope of Rosebud hill, is to be extended through that claim. An examination is now being made of the shaft workings by prospective lessees and favorable terms as to royalties and work to be performed have been made by the management. An air line will be extended from the compressor recently installed at the Henry Adney shaft, and power will be supplied at actual cost for the compression of the air used. Rich ore was taken from surface workings of the Mary Nevlin, and the deep developments made possible by the drainage of this section should result in profit to the lessees and shareholders of the Mary Nevlin company.

CRIPPLE CREEK MINES

Special to The Gazette.
CRIPPLE CREEK, Jan. 26.—A rich strike for the Battle Mountain section is reported made by the leasing firm of McEnroe & Co. of Victor, operating the Necessity fraction on the southern slope of Battle Mountain, immediately adjacent to the Ajax Gold Mining company's estate.
Operating through the Utah tunnel, the lessees by upraise have exposed rich ore, and a shipment loaded on Thursday is of smelting grade, as shown by the assay tests. Values range from three to eight and 10 ounces gold to the ton, and the screenings shipped are estimated at not less than five ounces gold or $100 to the ton. The necessity was for a long time tied up and inactive through protracted litigation. A compromise was effected and the owning corporation is now known as the Utah-Ajax Gold Mining company.
Zenobia Back With Shippers.
The Zenobia mine on Bull hill, owned by the Zenobia Gold Mining company, a corporation controlled by the Stratton estate, under lease to W. R. Morris of this city, has been brought back to the shipping list. Operating through the old incline shaft on the north end of the claim, ore has been encountered not far distant from the Pharmacists west side line. The vein is from three to four feet wide, and a shipment loaded on yesterday is estimated by the management at $30 grade.
Vindicator Dividend.
Dividend checks for the first quarterly dividend for 1912 of the Vindicator Consolidated Gold Mining company, bearing Thursday's date, were received by resident stockholders Friday. The dividend, No. 54 for the Vindicator company, was at the rate of 3 cents per share and totals $46,000.
Mary Nevil Tunnel.
The Mary Nevil tunnel, penetrating the Mary Nevil claim on the eastern slope of Rosebud hill, is to be extended through that claim. An examination is now being made of the shaft workings by prospective lessees and favorable terms as to royalties and work to be performed have been made by the management. An air line will be extended from the compressor recently installed at the Henry Adney shaft, and power will be supplied at actual cost for the compression of the air used. Rich ore was taken from surface workings of the Mary Nevil, and the deep developments made possible by the drainage of this section should result in profit to the lessees, and shareholders of the Mary Nevil company.

NEW YORK MARKET

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—An aggressive bear raid weakened the stock market today, after an irregular opening in which some stocks registered substantial gains. The reduction in the St. Paul dividend gave bear traders their opportunity, and they were helped by a drop of more than 2 points in the stock in London before the opening hour.
Reading & Great Northern preferred rose strongly at the outset, but the professional traders, taking the ground that the bidding up of these stocks was for the purpose of selling them where, attacked the whole list, and prices yielded in every direction. Most of the leading issues were depressed a point or so below yesterday's close. Apparently, there was little liquidation in St. Paul, holders of the stock having been warned well in advance of the dividend reduction. The fluctuations were not large, and the net loss was a point.
Speculations in the tobacco stocks jumped 27 points, and other issues from 8 to 10 points. American Snuff, which was listed on the exchange yesterday, sold first today at 130 and then advanced to 145. The price is in the neighborhood of 100 points below the quotations of this stock prior to the dissolution of the American Tobacco company.
The unusual activity in Lackawanna, which rose 10 points, was explained by the announcement of a proposal to issue $12,000,000 of new common stock. New York Central also displayed unwonted activity, and its rise of 2 points made it the feature of the late trading.
Foreign exchange rates advanced, and more loans were placed abroad. In the domestic market there was virtually no demand for money. Estimates of the week's currency movement indicated that the weekly accumulation of cash at this center would be enlarged. The inflow of money in the interior was continued, and a cash gain of $12,000,000 to $14,000,000 is indicated.
The exchange in the cities of the country showed a gain of 3 per cent over last year, although they were 18 per cent smaller than in the corresponding week of 1910.
Trading in the bond market was somewhat smaller than during the recent days of unusual activity. Prices were mixed, with most issues showing improvement. Total sales, par value, $3,739,000.
The market for bonds was irregular. Quotations furnished by Oils & Hough.

Marlow of 1044 South Tenth Street, and Zavierio Odome will be celebrated this morning at 9 o'clock at the home of the brides parents. The couple will leave a short while after February 1, at 222 East Wilmette avenue. Mr. Odome is head room waiter at the Antlers hotel.

Deaths and Funerals

Mrs. Joseph Mills aged 74 died yesterday morning after a long illness. No arrangements for the funeral have been made. She had lived in Station park for the last nine years.

The funeral of Jules Martin Fisher, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Fisher of 201 Jefferson avenue, Colorado City, will be held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the residence. Interment in Evergreen cemetery. The services will be private.

TO ELECT OFFICERS

The annual meeting and election of officers of the old Eureka club will take place February 2. The club now maintains rooms on Huerfano street. The club is maintaining its organization in the hope that, after five years it can obtain a liquor license.

UNION MASS MEETING

A union mass meeting of the three west side churches of Colorado Springs will be held in Auburn M. E. church, tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. Preaching will be by the pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, and singing by a large chorus choir under the leadership of Earl Faber. Everybody invited.

RAGSDALE FOUND GUILTY

Harry Ragdale was found guilty of forgery and of uttering a forged check by a jury in the district court, last night. Sentence will be withheld for 10 days, pending the filing of a motion for a new trial.

Ragdale was arrested in Mountain View last August when, it is alleged, he was about to be paid $500 on a draft signed Robert H. Gregory, and drawn on the Bank of Gower, Gower, Mo. Ragdale said the draft was given him to cash by a man named Watkins, whom he said was a gambler and confidence man. He supposed, he said, Watkins had won the draft in gambling and did not want to cash it himself.

Miss Lina Campbell, assistant cashier of the Mountain View bank, testified that Ragdale cashed a worthless draft for $475, at her bank, last May. She said he gave his name then as T. W. Rose. Ragdale denied that he had been in Mountain View.

KEEN INTEREST SHOWN IN CARNIVAL PICTURES

Among the most interesting motion pictures ever exhibited in this city were those shown at the Majestic theater yesterday presenting scenes of the summer carnival here last August. The film which was made by the Swanson Film company of Denver has never been exhibited anywhere until this week. It contains scenes, both of the automobile and pioneer parties, including the awarding of prizes in the former and other incidents of interest in connection with the two professions. The pictures are very clear and show the parties passing through the streets in various sections of the city giving a good idea of its substantial business buildings and attractive residential sections.

The film is of added interest to local people in that so many faces are plainly to be recognized and considerably more than 2,000 persons saw the movie yesterday. Interest in it is so keen that the Chamber of Commerce has suggested that they again be exhibited next week. This will probably be arranged as the pictures are shown.
